WO 1 2 3 4 5 IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT 6 7 FOR THE DISTRICT OF ARIZONA 8 Laura M. Wells; Kelley L. Bradbury; No. CV-13-00607-PHX-GMS Morgan M. Block; Melanie Haswood; 9 Brian Gilmore; Bradley Ledford; Elie ORDER Lahhoud; Timothy Roberts; Elizabeth 10 Trujillo; Devin Brennan; Dean Bausman; William Reynolds; and Nancy Farran, 11 Plaintiffs, 12 v. 13 American Polygraph Association; Barry 14 Cushman; Charles Slupski; Pam Shaw; George Baranowski; Robert Peters; Walt 15 Goodson; Jamie McCloughan; Raymond Nelson; Mike Gougler; Vickie T. Murphy-Carr; Chad Russell; Gordon L. Vaughan; 16 Donald Krapohl; Robbie S. Bennett; 17 Donnie Dutton; Lisa Jacocks; and Roy 18 Ortiz. 19 Defendants. 20 Pending before the Court are Plaintiffs' Emergency Motion for a Temporary 21 Restraining Order and for Preliminary and Permanent Injunctions (Doc. 84), Plaintiff 22 Melanie Haswood's Motion for a Hearing on an Emergency Temporary Restraining 23 Order (Doc. 82), and Plaintiff Laura M. Wells' Motion for a Temporary Restraining 24 Order (Doc. 20). For the reasons discussed below, these motions are denied without 25 prejudice. 26

This case arises out of a variety of incidents surrounding the accreditation of the Polygraph School of Science (the "School") by the American Polygraph Association (the "APA"), an organization governing polygraph schools. (Doc. 24.)

28

As an initial matter, Plaintiffs' Motion for a TRO and for Preliminary and Permanent Injunctions fails as it is brought on behalf of the School as well as the individual plaintiffs, (Doc. 84), and the School is not a party to this action as of Plaintiffs' Amended Complaint (the "FAC"), (Doc. 24).

Additionally, Plaintiffs' pleadings neither allege any claim under this Court's jurisdiction nor provide any basis on which to grant a hearing or the relief sought. Plaintiffs assert jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1332. (Id. at 2.) The Court has such jurisdiction over cases in which plaintiffs and defendants are citizens of different states and the amount in controversy is greater than $75,000. 28 U.S.C. § 1332. The Supreme Court has interpreted Section 1332 to require complete diversity between parties, where "the citizenship of each plaintiff is diverse from the citizenship of each defendant." Caterpillar Inc. v. Lewis, 519 U.S. 61, 68 (1996). Here, it is clear from the face of Plaintiffs' FAC that the action does not meet the requirement for complete diversity of citizenship. (Doc. 24 at 2–6.)

In their FAC, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants committed libel, slander, breach of contract, disparagement, discrimination, and negligent interference with a contract in their dealings with the School and with the Plaintiffs. (Doc. 24 at 2, 17–20.) Plaintiffs fail to specify any federal law claims that would give rise to jurisdiction in this Court. (Id.)

Finally, Plaintiffs fail to demonstrate any basis for their right to a hearing on their Motion or to the relief sought. A plaintiff must establish four elements in order to be granted a preliminary injunction, including "that he is likely to succeed on the merits, that he is likely to suffer irreparable harm in the absence of preliminary relief, that the balance of equities tips in his favor, and that an injunction is in the public interest." Winter v. Nat't Res. Def. Council, 555 U.S. 7, 20 (2008), see Fed. R. Civ. P. 65. The Ninth Circuit considers all of the elements except for irreparable injury using a sliding scale approach, where "the elements of the preliminary injunction test are balanced, so that a stronger

6	Plaintiffs state that they have satisfied these requirements but such conclusory
7	statements are insufficient. Plaintiffs must actually make some demonstration that they
8	have met these requirements through affidavits or admissible evidence. For example,
9	while Plaintiffs assert that they will likely succeed on the merits of their claims, they
10	provide no factual basis for this statement, and aside from asserting what appear to be
11	generic claims arising from state law, offer no reason why this Court should rule that they

14	IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Plaintiff Laura M. Wells' Motion for a
15	Temporary Restraining Order (Doc. 20) is denied without prejudice.
16	IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Plaintiff Melanie Haswood's Motion for a

18	IT IS FURTHER ORDED that Plaintiffs' Emergency Motion for a Temporary

21	IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Plaintiffs' Motion for Leave to Exceed Page
